FOREWORD

The Calendar of Expiring Agreements is a compilation of major collective agreements in British Columbia which are scheduled to expire in the coming year. The publication includes those expiring agreements which cover 25 or more employees.

The total number of agreements and employees covered by expiries listed in the Calendar likely understates to some extent the bargaining activity to be expected during 1986. First, it is not possible to anticipate bargaining which will arise from first-contract negotiations where a trade union has been newly certified by the Labour Relations Board. Second, at the time data for the Calendar was being assembled in November 1985, a number of collective agreements were in the process of being re-negotiated. Some of these renewed agreements will likely expire in 1986 but at the time of the publication it was not known which of them will be up for negotiation again in the coming year. A revised list of upcoming expiries is published each month in Collective Bargaining Information which is available from the Queen's Printer in Victoria (387-1901).

The information contained in the Calendar was compiled by Fern Hegan and typed by Margaret Ludwig of the Policy and Planning Branch. Our thanks are extended to employers and unions who co-operated in providing expiry information to the Branch.

INTRODUCTION

A total of 379 collective agreements covering 25 or more employees will expire in British Columbia during 1986. These expiries cover 222,098 employees in the province. The number of expiries scheduled to be renegotiated is about the same as the number reported in the 1985 calendar (380) but covers more employees than did last year's list of expiries (179,692).

The largest expiry in 1986 is the agreement between the Construction Labour Relations Association and the seventeen Building Trades Unions covering 33,000 employees. This 24-month agreement terminates on April 30, 1986. There are a number of large expiries in forestry as the I.W.A. negotiates with the Forest Industrial Relations Association (24,100 employees), the Interior Forest Labour Relations Association (6,500 employees) and the North Cariboo Forest Labour Relations Association (4,000 employees). Major pulp and paper agreements also expire in 1986. Other large expiries include the school district agreements between the seventy-five Public School Boards and the B.C. Teachers' Federation (30,000 employees) and the agreement between the Health Labour Relations Association and the H.E.U. (23,732 employees). The teachers' contracts expire on June 30, 1986, while the H.E.U.'s contract expires on May 31, 1986.

About 55 percent of the collective agreements expiring during the coming year are two-year contracts which have been in effect since 1984. There are 208 twenty-four month agreements up for renegotiation - (see Table 1). The proportion of expiring two-year agreements in 1986 is lower than shown in the 1985 Calendar (62.9%) and the 1984 Calendar (72.9%). In the 1986 Calendar, about 32 percent of agreements were longer than two years compared to 28.1 percent in 1985.

The two months in which the largest number of collective agreements are scheduled to expire are March (85 expiries) and April (72 expiries). The next busiest month on the bargaining calendar is June with 53 expiries - (see Table 2A). In terms of the number of employees, the months of March and June are most important (46,441 employees and 88,460 employees, respectively).

The industry with the largest number of expiries in 1986 is Manufacturing with 156 agreements covering 79,755 employees. The Community Services sector has the second highest number of expiries (62) covering 68,715 employees.

Table 3 of the Calendar contains a chronological list of 1986 expiries by month. Individual expiries are listed by industry in Table 4. Employee totals for the federal jurisdiction includes only employees in British Columbia.

Following is a list of major collective agreements due to expire in 1986 which cover 500 or more employees.
